Teacher Notes

The activities in this guide help pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students develop an understanding and identification of basic two- and three-dimensional shapes. Each activity is a tool for teaching a single shape and offers differentiated approaches to meet the needs of early learners.

This guide is an ideal resource for centers, independent work in the classroom or homework. The activities can be used independently for review or as a form of assessment or in combination with other related classroom activities. They are also the perfect complement to NewPath's Early Childhood Flip Charts, available separately at www.newpathlearning.com.
